Lemon Chicken & Potato Meal Prep

Instructions

1. Preheat
   Preheat the oven to 410°F (convection).

2. Marinate the Chicken
   Season the chicken with the salt, pepper, smoked paprika, oregano, and garlic powder. Add the grated garlic, lemon zest, lemon juice, and olive oil, and mix until evenly coated. Let it marinate for as long as you can, even just while the oven preheats.

3. Season the Potatoes
   In a bowl, season the potatoes with the salt, pepper, smoked paprika, and garlic powder. Add the olive oil and toss to coat.

4. Roast the Potatoes
   Spread the potatoes onto a large lined sheet pan (18 × 13 in), making sure they're well spaced. Roast on their own to start crisping (20 minutes).

5. Add the Chicken
   After the potatoes have roasted for 20 minutes, place the chicken on a second lined tray and put both trays back in the oven. Cook, turning the potatoes halfway through, until the potatoes are golden and crisp and the chicken is cooked through to 165°F (a further 20–25 minutes).

6. Rest and Slice
   Let the chicken rest for 5 minutes. Slice into bite-sized pieces and toss through the tray juices to add back moisture and flavor.

7. Portion and Store
   Divide the potatoes between 5 meal-prep containers, top with the sliced chicken, and garnish with parsley. Serve with sriracha on the side or drizzled over just before eating.
