Chorizo & Egg Muffins

Serves 5 (meal-prep containers, 12 muffins)

Ingredients

The Filling

- Spanish Chorizo – 6.3 oz (180g), diced
- Cherry Tomatoes – 5.3 oz (150g), halved
- Olive Oil – 1 tsp (5ml), for the tomatoes
- Feta – 2.8 oz (80g), crumbled (Persian, Greek, or Danish)
- Cheddar Cheese – 3.5 oz (100g), grated

The Egg Base

- Eggs – 12 large
- Milk – 1/3 cup (80ml)
- Smoked Paprika – 1/2 tsp (2g)
- Garlic Powder – 1/2 tsp (2g)
- Salt and Pepper – to taste

To Serve

- Flat-Leaf Parsley – a small handful, chopped
- Feta – extra, crumbled, to taste
- Hot Sauce – to taste

Notes

- Chorizo: Use cured Spanish chorizo (firm, like salami), not raw Mexican chorizo.
- Storage: Keeps up to 5 days in the refrigerator, or 2 months in the freezer. Thaw frozen muffins in the fridge overnight before reheating.

Chorizo & Egg Muffins

Instructions

1. Prep Everything
   Dice the chorizo, halve the cherry tomatoes, grate the cheddar, and chop the parsley. Measure out everything marked with a spoon.

2. Preheat the Oven
   Set the oven to 350°F and let it heat while you cook the filling.

3. Render the Chorizo
   Add the chorizo to a pan over medium heat and cook until the fat has fully rendered and the edges are crispy (3–4 minutes). Lift the chorizo out with a slotted spoon and set it aside, leaving all the fat in the pan.

4. Blister the Tomatoes
   In a separate pan, heat the olive oil over medium-high heat. Add the tomatoes cut-side down and cook, without stirring, until blistered underneath (2–3 minutes). Toss once, cook 1 more minute, then set aside.

5. Grease the Tin
   Brush every hole of a 12-hole muffin tin generously with the chorizo fat, coating the base, sides, and rim. If the fat runs out, finish with a little olive oil.

6. Fill the Tin
   Whisk the eggs, milk, smoked paprika, garlic powder, salt, and pepper until combined and slightly frothy. Divide the chorizo evenly between the 12 holes, add the tomatoes, crumble over the feta, and scatter over half the cheddar. Pour in the egg mix to fill each hole only 3/4 full, since the eggs rise as they bake. Top with the rest of the cheddar.

7. Bake
   Bake until the eggs are set, the tops are golden, and the cheese is bubbling (18–22 minutes). A slight wobble in the center is fine; they finish setting as they rest. Let them rest in the tin (5 minutes), then run a knife around each one and lift it out.

8. Portion and Serve
   Divide the 12 muffins between 5 containers (3 in two of them, 2 in the other three) and top with the parsley and extra feta. Keep the hot sauce separate until serving. Reheat in the microwave (45–60 seconds), or eat them cold.
